Anglo- Saxon Settlers

In AD 407 British chiefs asked the Anglo-Saxons soldiers to come from Germany and fight against the Picts and the Scots.

In return for this help the Anglo-Saxons were given land. The Anglo-Saxons were strong soldiers. They had defeated the Picts and the Scots and, when they were asked to leave, they refused to go. As time passed, more and more Anglo-Saxons arrived, wanting land and attacking the Britons. Soon they began to settle in Britain.
